

Public Lecture

by the Revd Dr George Parsenios

Associate Professor of New Testament

St Vladimir's Orthodox Theological Seminary

Father George Parsenios is Associate Professor of New Testament both at St Vladimir's and at Princeton Theological Seminary. His teaching and research explore the interaction of early Christianity with classical literature. Author of numerous books and articles, he regularly teaches course units in New Testament.

“St John Chrysostom and Jesus as the Adaptable Good Shepherd in the Fourth Gospel”

Thursday, 29th June, 2017

6.30pm

College Hall

St Andrew's Greek Orthodox Theological College

Please RSVP by 26th June, 2017

02 9549 3100 or events@sagotc.edu.au

242 Cleveland Street Redfern, NSW, 2016

On-site parking is very limited. Please consider public transport or parking in nearby Pitt or George Sts (Redfern), or Chippen or Meagher Sts (Chippendale).